Italian Transport, 2,000 Aboard, Sunk

PRESIDENT WILSON WILL

100 HURT AND SEVERAL ARE DEAD

UMBRIA STRIKES A MINE AND GOES DOWN IMMEDIATELY.

WAS A VESSEL OF 5,020 TONS

British Liner Mauretania is Bringing Home Admiral Sims.

Paris, April 4.—The Italian transport Umbria, with 2,000 officers and soldiers on board bound from Venice to Tripoli, has struck a mine and sunk, according to advices from Paris, Italy, quoting newspapers of that city. Several on board were killed and 100 injured.

The Umbria was a vessel of 5,020 tons gross built at Livorno in 1902 and owned in Venice. She was at Naples in December last, but has not since been reported in shipping circles.

SIMS ON WAY HOME

New York, April 4.—The British transport Admiral Sims and his staff, sailed from Great Britain and should arrive here Sunday or Monday next, according to a cablegram received today by the British embassy in London.

Of the 100 on board were 64 officers and 950 men of the American army; 115 officers, 2,630 men and three nurses, Americans formerly with British expeditionary forces and a number of civilians.

STEEL FOR NAVY TO STILL BE BOUGHT ON COMPETITIVE BIDS

Washington, April 4.—Steel for the navy will continue to be bought on competitive bids, regardless of prices agreed upon by the industrialists, according to the navy department today.

The navy department has decided to continue the policy of competitive bidding for steel for the navy, and the department has decided to continue the policy of competitive bidding for steel for the navy, and the department has decided to continue the policy of competitive bidding for steel for the navy.

GREEN RETURNS FROM FREIGHT RATE HEARING

Frank J. Green, manager of the Illinois Public Utilities Commission, returned last night from the freight rate hearing held in the ball room of the La Salle hotel all day yesterday.

Evidence in the case of the Illinois Public Utilities Commission vs. Illinois shippers was taken before the eastern and western traffic commission. Decision has been deferred.

Over 250 shippers from Illinois, Indiana and Wisconsin were present at the hearing. Attorney H. W. Rapp, of East St. Louis, represented the interests of the Illinois shippers and pointed out with figures that if the rate were raised it would be cheaper to ship from Illinois than it would be to ship from any other point in the same state.

First Allied Red Cross Conference is Held

Cannes, France, April 4.—The first allied Red Cross conference today discussed extra governmental means of eradicating diseases. The view was expressed that there is need for Red Cross societies to assist governmental forces.

Contract For Building Will Be Awarded In Detroit Late Today

Erection of the second big unit of the Sanborn tractor plant will start immediately. J. A. Craig, president of the company, announced today.

The contract for construction of the building is scheduled to be let by officials of the General Motors corporation at Detroit, sometime today, he stated.

The cost of constructing and equipping the second unit will be approximately $500,000, practically the same amount as will have been expended on the first building when it is entirely completed.

Work will be rushed

The structure will be built parallel to and 30 feet west of the first unit and will be of the same dimensions—290 by 500 feet. Work will be rushed. When it is finished it will be used for the building of engines for the tractor.

Expert mechanics will be employed in this department. They will be hired as fast as housing accommodations can be provided for them.

The specifications for the second unit of the building to be joined with the office part of the first unit. A restaurant and recreational facilities for employees will be provided for in this part of the building.

Although we don't want to rush work on the plant any faster than houses for the workmen can be obtained, we hope to be able to begin construction of the third unit this year," said Mr. Craig.

First Building Complete

The first building is now practically completed and assembling of tractors will probably begin in ten days. Materials for this work are arriving in large quantities at the plant. A number of carloads of finished tractors have been received and several

FRENCH TROOPS SEE FRANKFORT UPRISINGS; ARE HELPLESS TO ACT

Coblenz, April 4.—The Spartacus uprising in Frankfurt, to which city German government troops had been ordered, occurred virtually within sight of soldiers of the tenth French army, who occupy western suburbs, but were powerless to act owing to the fact that the French major is just over the Mainz bridgehead line. So far as is known here, no French troops have entered Frankfurt, although requests were made that they should do so.

According to American medical officers who have been in Frankfurt recently for the purpose of buying surgical instruments, there has been much misery in the city since the armistice was signed. All the afternoon and far into the night the cafes were filled with people who became weeping because of the war. There was apparently plenty of food but the prices were very high at hotels and restaurants. The Americans say they heard a different story regarding food from districts where the food classes are not so high. There was no shortage of food in Frankfurt and newspapers have devoted much space to descriptions of what they call "luxury living."

An American surgeon who visited Frankfurt did so with the permission of General Mangin, commander of the French forces in that district and entered the city in an automobile which carried the white flag.

Germans Send Warning to President Wilson

Berlin, April 4.—Leading ethical, philosophical and religious societies of Germany have addressed an appeal to President Wilson giving warning against a disregard of principles to which Mr. Wilson has pledged Germany to lay down her arms.

The appeal declares that "if the Germans are driven to desperation they would rather become bolsheviks than accept the terms of the peace conference and charges the Czechs and Poles with anticipating the conclusions of the peace conference and violating the Wilsonian principles. It says the allies are not only odious but are supporting those nations."

It is maintained the allies provoked anarchistic conditions in Germany by refusing to relax the blockade.

Wurttemberg Government Says Strike Has Collapsed

Berlin, April 4.—The government of Wurttemberg has announced that the strike in that section has suddenly collapsed, according to a telegram from Stuttgart and has therefore requested bourgeois counter-strikers to resume work. Officers joined in the counter-strikes and Stuttgart was almost without milk today.

Bank Stock at Par for Miners' Union Members

Berlin, April 4.—The S. Bleichroder bank, which has been the center of the Great Oppeln mine, at Oppeln, Silesia, has arranged to turn over its stock to members of the miners union at par. This mine will if the arrangement is carried out, become the first in Germany to be owned by the employees.

80 Years Old, Does His Bit; He's Mustered Out

Paris, April 4.—After serving four years and a half in dugouts and billets as a sapper in an engineering regiment, Lieut. Surville, 80 years old, has been mustered out of service.

When the war broke out he volunteered for the duration of the struggle and during the conflict earned the sobriquet of "the dean of the poilus."

Lieut. Surville passed most of the time near Souchez where shells fell with constant regularity. He is at present in fine health.

EXECUTIVE IS IN BED WITH COLD

REAR ADMIRAL GRAYSON SAYS HE IS UNABLE TO BE ABOUT.

COUNCIL OF FOUR HOLDS MEETING

Necessary Matters Are To Be Referred to the Sick Room For Approval.

BULLETIN.

Paris, April 4.—In a statement to the Petit Parisien Premier Lloyd George of Great Britain, denies there are dissensions between France and Britain regarding guarantees for France against Germany. He declares that the understanding the two governments is complete and that England is "ready to make fresh sacrifices if necessary to secure the peace and independence of France."

Washington, April 4.—President Wilson is confined to his bed with a cold, which in a statement given out at the Paris "white house" is characterized as "severe."

REAR ADMIRAL GRAYSON SAYS HE IS UNABLE TO BE ABOUT.

COUNCIL OF FOUR HOLDS MEETING

Necessary Matters Are To Be Referred to the Sick Room For Approval.

BULLETIN.

Paris, April 4.—Although President Wilson was confined to his room today with a cold, the council of four met in the Paris "white house" as usual. It is understood that necessary matters will be referred to the sick room or that the conference will consult the president personally if occasion arises.

Iowa Governor Will Be Quizzed Late Today

Des Moines, Ia., April 4.—Gov. Harding is expected to be among witnesses examined late today in the Iowa house judiciary committee's investigation of the "white house" pardon case, with a view to clarifying certain points in his previous testimony.

The afternoon session and the hearing tonight may complete the introduction of testimony, making it possible for the committee to devote the week end to formulation of its report and recommendations for presentation to the house early next week.

STAGE STAR PICKS MATE

MISS IDA ADAMS AS SHE APPEARED IN "THE POLLES."

The recent marriage of Miss Ida Adams, American actress, to Lieut. Col. Sir Randolph Little, of the British Army, given London society something to gossip about. Miss Adams was born in a tiny West Virginia mountain settlement and has made her own way in the world. Her husband, on the other hand, was born a baronet and inherited great wealth and social position. He is forty years old.

STORK, RING, FIND WELSH BEAT DEATH BEAT KLEIN TWO TO ONE IN 4 WARDS

Janesville is growing. There were more than twice as many births and marriages than deaths during last month.

Health Officer Doctor S. J. Buckmaster this morning filed his report for March with City Clerk Victor E. Hemming. The report stated that the city's internal growth is picking up quite a bit and thus far is more than keeping its own with population arrival from other and outside sources.

During March there were eleven who took the holy bonds of matrimony and March, according to the preachers, County Clerk Howard W. Jones, who issues the marriage licenses, County Judge Field and Justice of Peace Charles H. Long, who sometimes ties the knots, is a dull month as it comes in Lent.

Incidentally it might be remarked that all above mentioned stations on the route to the business of being married, are looking forward to a big After Lent Season. From all reports "cholesterol" there are to be quite a lot of weddings after Easter.

Twenty-Six Babies.

Now comes the births, twenty-six of them, fat, cherub little youngsters. It was quite a month, almost one day. The figures mean a lot for more babies mean more of lots of things in general. In some instances banking accounts have already been started for the youngsters.

Death statistics are interesting. In all there were but eighteen in the city. Two deaths were of persons between the ages of 50 and 70, five between 70 and 80, and one between 80 and 90 years. Two infants, both less than a year old, passed away.

U. S. Dairy Cattle To Be Sent to Devastated France

Washington, April 4.—American dairy cattle are to be sent to devastated districts in France where they will do their bit toward restoring the health of the children of these regions. More than 100 head of pure bred cattle recently purchased by the French high commission and selected from the best herds by experts of the United States department of agriculture, shortly will leave New York for Havre on a specially equipped transport. There is said to be an urgent demand for milk from the war stricken areas.

Queen Victoria Improves After Going Under Knife

Madrid, April 4.—The condition of Queen Victoria, who underwent a slight operation yesterday is satisfactory, it is announced.

PHILIPPINE PEOPLE TO BE GRANTED FREEDOM

SECRETARY BAKER TELLS MISSION AMERICA WILL BE JUST.

DELEGATES WILL TAKE NEWS HOME

All Obstacles That Once Stood in the Way Have Been Overcome.

Washington, April 4.—Members of the special mission of the Philippine legislature here seeking immediate independence for the islands, were told today by Secretary Baker that they spoke President Wilson's mind when he said he believed the time had come to grant the complete independence desired by the Philippine people.

The war secretary also said he believed the mission would be able to carry home word that the American people loved liberty too dearly to deny it to others.

Reads Wilson Letter

He read a letter left by President Wilson when he went to Europe, expressing the hope that the mission would result in bringing about the desirable ends set forth in the joint resolution of the legislature.

Francis Burton Harrison, former-governor of the Philippine Islands, accompanied by the secretary, followed Mr. Baker with the statement that his experience in the islands had convinced him that the obstacles to independence had been cleared away.

The mission, including forty prominent Filipinos, headed by Manuel Quezon, president of the senate, upon being received in Secretary Baker's office presented a formal memorial asking independence and pointing particularly to the record of the Philippine people in the past.

In replying the secretary read President Wilson's letter addressed to him under date of April 4. It was as follows:

"Will you please express to the gentlemen of the commission representing the Philippine legislature my regret that I shall be unable to see them personally on their arrival in Washington, as well as my hope that their mission will be a source of satisfaction to them and that it will result in bringing about the desirable ends set forth in the joint resolution of the legislature, approving the sending of the commission to the United States."

Deeply Gratitude

"I have been deeply gratified with the constant support and encouragement received from the Philippine people and from the Philippine legislature in the trying period through which we are passing. The people of the United States have, with reason, taken the deepest interest in the destinies of the Philippine people.

"Though unable to meet the commission, the Philippine people shall not be absent from my thoughts. I am confident that the Philippine people will be able to make the pathway of the weaker people of the world less perilous—a labor which should be of interest to the Philippine people.

"I am sorry that I cannot look into the faces of the gentlemen of this mission, but I am confident that the Philippine people for their permanent benefit, I know, however, that your sentiments are mine in this regard, and that you will translate truly to them my own feelings."

FOCH AND ERZBERGER CONFER ON TROOPS

Paris, April 4.—Marshal Foch, the ally of the Americans in chief, (who went to Spa yesterday, to discuss the question of the return of the Polish troops in France through Danzig with German representatives) had a second conference at Spa with Matthias Erzberger, the head of the German armistice commission, after their initial meeting advices from Spa state.

The first interview began at 8:30 o'clock and lasted 40 minutes. The second conference began at 11 o'clock and continued until 12:30 o'clock.

With Marshal Foch were General Weygand, his assistant, and General Niox, the German's representative, stationed at Spa. Herr Erzberger was accompanied by General Baron von Hammerstein, a member of the German armistice commission and another German official.

Reparations Question Up to Council of Four

Paris, April 4.—The council of four has appointed a committee consisting of L. P. Loucheur, French minister of reconstruction; Edwin Samuel Montagu, British secretary for India and John W. Duns, American ambassador to Great Britain to put into definite form proposals for the solution of the reparations question. These will be passed on in principle by the council, it is reported from French sources.

HOUSEWIVES' THRIFT.

M. J. Stevens, Wisconsin director of publicity for the war savings committee, in a recent communication
 offers a suggestion which will no doubt appeal to the thrifty housewife.
 It follows:
 "Few American housewives are honest with themselves as to the cost of a maid. Not one family in a hundred actually figures out correctly what a servant actually costs. A woman, in engaging a maid figures only on what she demands as wages. They fail to count in her food, the light she uses, the dishes she breaks and the food she wastes. Most housewives, moreover, have no way of figuring correctly the extra wear and tear, due
 to extra breakage of year and tear, due to the fact that the servant does not have the interest of ownership for making things go as far as possible.
 Few housewives know, at the end of a year, the important total that the
 "odd" man about the place costs,
 also.

"However this may be, the following is offered as a suggestion for the housewife who is trying to save by doing her own housework. She should save by saving the girl's wages,
 of say $5 a week, and put that $5
 into something for the household, a new hat, or the like. She should, if she has been paying a maid $5 a week, estimate that the girl cost $10
 and then take that $10 and with it purchase something for her in future
 years when she may perhaps, need
 the $10 more than she does now.

"During the month of April a War Savings stamp costs a few cents more than $4—the housewife who saves $10 can easily purchase two of the war savings stamps, and have enough
 left to purchase several thrifty stamps.
 Five years from now she will appreciate this saving. If she wishes to touch her little daughter to save she can do so by paying her a small wage
 each week, for washing dishes,
 sweeping the front porch, etc. Then,
 teach the small girl to save a portion
 of this and invest it in thrifty stamps,
 and she will have accomplished more than she set out to—she will have taught herself thrift and her little daughter, too.

STATE CONSERVATION.

The state conservation commission
 has issued its first edition of a publication which will be devoted to the interests of fish, game, park and forest conservation. By way of introduction the editor makes the following declaration:

"The Wisconsin Conservationist
 modestly makes its bow to the public,
 and indulges the hope that it will be hospitably received into the family of state periodicals. It will for the present make its appearance bi-monthly, but should conditions seem
 to make a more frequent appearance advisable it will be changed later to a monthly publication. The purpose of the Conservationist can be briefly and frankly stated. It is to promote and to state a friendly co-operation
 on the part of the people in the carrying out of the duties which the legislature has laid upon the state conservation commission. The functions of three previously existing boards, the fish and game department, the state forestry board and the state park board have been united in one. To rightly perform these combined functions requires not only faithfulness and industry upon the part of the commission, but intelligent and friendly co-operation on the part of the public as well. Without the latter we are measurably helpless in an important field of productive
 activity, and equally helpless to conserve the great natural resources of the state.

"While the functions of the three
 boards now merged into the state conservation commission are directly related and render joint administration
 logical and easy, yet those functions
 differ pointedly in some of their relations. Thus while the wild life department and the division of fisheries especially relate themselves to the great problem of food production,
 they also possess a keen interest for the professional sportsman, and the non-professional seeker after recreation. An additional interest comes in the department of wild life, as it affects the fur-bearing animals. The importance of this latter can be understood when it is stated that the fur pelts taken and sold in Wisconsin
 in 1917 (figures of 1918 are not yet available) amounted to $700,000. We refer to these matters chiefly for the purpose of showing that the functions of the commission have an important economic bearing, and rightly carried out tend to increase materially the wealth of the state as well as to provide for the recreation and sport of the people.

"Difficult and far reaching as the problems before the state conservation commission are, the experience of the members for three years makes plain that in proportion as the commission can secure the intelligent
 co-operation of the public will it be possible to administer the laws adequately and satisfactorily. Unfortunately a good many people yet look upon the work of the state conservation commission as a mere restriction of the rights of the citizen, and upon their personal privileges. The commission learned during its three thousand mile itinerary through the state last year, when its members
 met and conferred with farmers, set-

ters, sportsmen and citizens to the number of thousands and discussed
 with these the problems of conservation that the chief need in this field
 of activity is an understanding of what the state is trying to do. Just as soon as this is made clear the commission
 secures the ardent co-operation of all classes of people. So, one great task confronting the commission at this time is to show to the people of the state that restrictive laws as to hunting, fishing and trapping and the protection of parks and forests are not meant first of all and indeed only to promote the welfare and make perpetual the pleasure of the people in these legitimate sports and in the enjoyment of outdoor life. This fact is well illustrated by the operation of one law such as that making closed
 season extending over several years
 for partridges. This law is meant expressly to prevent the extinction of these fine game birds and make possible better partridge hunting.

"The real reason then for beginning
 the publication of the Conservationist is to give the commission a direct medium through which to inform the public of the purposes of the legislature as shown in the administration
 by the commission of the conservation
 laws, and thus to secure each year a more general co-operation of the public in the work of conservation. The more clearly the people realize that an honest regard for the closed season
 for fish and game is the only means whereby a great food supply is preserved, and the pleasure of the sportsman perpetuated, the more determined will they become to have the laws enforced. The myriads of wild pigeons have disappeared from this country without leaving a single pair
 to perpetuate the species, all because there was no protection. A food supply worth many millions of dollars annually would have been preserved
 to the people of this country, not to speak of the pleasure of the hunt, if the wild pigeon had been accorded
 the protection of the conservation
 laws now given, for example, to quail.
 In its forestry and park work in preserving the beautiful state parks, conservation in Wisconsin is maintaining great health-giving pleasure grounds
 and conserving the lumber and fuel
 supply for our children and our children's children."

News comes out of Russia that the allied army has been trapped. This has been expected for a long time.
 The secretary of war certainly did not expect a handful of troops to keep the ever-growing hordes of Reds at bay for an indefinite period of time.
 Our boys have no business in Russia and any sacrifices which they will have to make must be laid at the door of an administration which has shown itself more concerned with playing politics than with the welfare of our soldiers.

Even South Africa is reported about ready to try its hand at war. It is reported a revolution is in the making there. The poor savage of the jungle is not free from the ravages of civilization.

Again Mrs. Vernon Castle has announced positively that she is not passed with Mrs. Castle's heart free from the love-throbs which have threatened so often.

Serve him with a mixture of vinegar

 He has been used to French wine.
 At formal dinner parties watch the soldier husband carefully or he will entirely neglect three or four extra forks and cling tenaciously to one throughout the repast. His soup spoon will also be employed in his pudding after the fashion of the aristocrat. Recall to his mind the amenities of polite society, such as removing the shoes and clothing before retiring.
 Your husband will now tidy up the house invariably, and he may be used as a substitute kitchen police
 when the maid wants a night out.
 To delight your husband, mention
 his thorough knowledge of French
 when the neighbors are calling. Then ask him questions to which he may appropriately reply "bow-wow" or "too
 sweet," the only two words he knows.
 Send him only an errand and let the house be a double but do something.
 Formerly he would grumble and do nothing. F. D. D.

The paper napkin was first used at a lunch social in Muskogee, Iowa, in 1881, and since that time has been recognized as the most efficient and useful substitute which has been invented for the American people. Efficiency is not a new word, but it is certainly a new word in the paper napkin
 to take the place of the old slippery variety, which fails to effectively remove pumpkin pie from the face.
 have all been discarded. Some church
 and banquet societies have substituted sheets of tin for paper napkins, but
 with only partially satisfactory results.

 taking with the British public." This,
 as "Punch" remarks, is one of the things that might perhaps have been expressed differently.

St. Louis paper says whiskey is now
 50 cents a drink in that city. The excursion business to St. Louis should increase from now on. That's cheaper than it is anywhere else.

Chicago city directory estimate causes Chicago to claim that she will outstrip Paris in population next year,
 and it is an interesting question as to how Paris will look when she is outstripped.

They call the Sixty-fifth the "war
 congress." And the Salina "Journal" says it was that, without counting the war over in Europe at all.

ANOTHER PEACE TIME DELI-CACY RETURNS.

Not so many weeks ago it was impossible to buy barbed wire, the government having hoarded up all the supplies for war work, but things have let down and a common scrub citizen
 can get it now of his hardware dealer
 if he has money enough.—Smith County (Mo.) Pioneer.

"Out this way," says a western paper, "we have a way of our own in deporting the Bolsheviks. We are him by putting a rope around his neck, throwing the rope over a limb
 and pulling."

TO MRS. FISKE—
 I know a garden spot where jasmine
 blooms
 Upon the moon-drenched magic of
 the night;
 Where swinging lanterns add in
 elfin light
 From rose
 Where notes of fairy music softly
 steal
 Athwart the rainbow lights and seem
 Into a melody that would entrance
 The dulcetest sense and make enchantment real;
 Where, in your garb of long ago,
 Your witching, laughing winsome way... All through Time's breath may dim mind's mirror of this place,
 Blurring the fairest outlines, still I know
 Two memories time's self cannot erase—
 Your lilted voice, your lovely, radiant face! —E. B. M.

THE FIRST HUNDRED STRINGS
 ARE THE HAPPIEST.
 Signor Savio's execution on the hundred strings puts him way in the lead among the harpists.—Neenah (Wis.) Times.

RUTH, THE REMINISCENT.
 R. K. M.—Yesterday, while I was walking Fifth avenue with Ruth,
 a gentleman was unfortunately struck
 by a bus which incidentally affected me greatly. Ruth, however, clever girl
 as she did not shrink, but looking at the aforementioned gentleman, she said, "Mark, you know that man reminds me of a ham actor." Why?
 queried I. "Well," she remarked, "he seems to be slightly stage struck,"
 which, to my mind was a very striking remark.

MOTHER GRAY'S POWDERS
 BENEFIT MANY CHILDREN
 Thousands of mothers have found Mother Gray's Sweet Powders an excellent remedy for children's complaints of headaches, colds,
 fevers, stomach troubles and other irregularities from which children suffer during these days and excellent results are accomplished by its use. Used by mothers for over 30 years. Sold by druggists everywhere.

WIDOWER
 CONGRATULATED
 "Since my wife's death, five years ago, I have suffered greatly from stomach and liver trouble and gas attacks. I lost over 50 lbs., and at times was as yellow as saffron. My doctors could not help me. Six doses of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy have entirely cured me. I have regained my weight and every one is congratulating me how well I look." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all
 stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. J. P.

REHBERG'S

For Smart Dressers

Rehberg Clothes

In buying Rehberg clothes you simplify the art of correct clothes appearance. Every Rehberg garment expresses a yard of authentic style to every inch of good fabric, refinement and fit.

We have just received a brand new shipment
 of Spring clothes for men and young men.
 Scores of beautiful snappy models in single and double breasted types, close-fitting and military types, high waist seam models, with newest lapels, flare skirts, new two-button
 effects with slash pockets.

We can also show you a great variety of strikingly handsome conservative models in a great assortment of fancy tweed mixtures
 and all-wool blue serge—sizes for men—
 hard-to-fits, as well as regulars. Come in and see them and choose for yourself.

French Deputies Consider Electoral Reform Bill

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Paris, April 4.—The chamber of deputies considered the electoral reform bill today, two women suffrage
 amendments being submitted.
 The first provided that members of the chamber be elected without distinction of sex. This was defeated.
 The second provided for the transmission of the right to vote to the next relatives of heads of families
 without distinction of sex.
 It was pointed out that this would insure family representation which was needed because many heads
 of families had been killed during the war. It was defeated.

MILK--The Cheapest of Nature's Foods

Dame Nature, in her wisdom, has provided Milk as the staple—the universal and economical—food for all mankind. Placed on a comparative basis with heavy foods, it is cheaper than beef, veal, pork, potatoes, beans, and a score of other articles used for daily food.

In these days of high living cost and food conservation it behooves everyone to cut down on their supply of meats and other heavy foods and DRINK MORE MILK.

Indispensible to Health in Young and Old

For growing children pure, rich milk is an absolute necessity. It contains all of the elements necessary to healthy, vigorous growth and development. It is a bone-builder and tissue-builder. It nourishes and builds up the body, makes for keen intellect and is particularly helpful to children in their school work.

But do not look upon Milk as merely a food for children. It is equally beneficial and healthful in adults alike. Get the habit of drinking a quart of good, pasteurized and clarified milk EVERY DAY and note how you'll improve in health.

The Runaway Trunk

By JACK LAWTON

(Copyright, 1919, by Western Newspaper Union.)

Rhoda put up the telephone receiver and looked toward her aunt.

"Those trainmen are a lot of story-telling conspirators," she said. "Now, why did they say yesterday that my trunk was on its way here, while today they know nothing about it? I don't care so much for the loss of my clothing as I do for the fate of the eggs which grandma insisted upon packing in for you. I can manage with your borrowed things. Aunt Stacia, but how long will live dozen eggs—and at such a prohibitory price—last in a travelling trunk?"

"Nearly three weeks since I came to the city and my trunk still listed among the 'congested freight.' Cloverton may be slow, Aunt Stacia, but I tell you we would not put up with such things."

Aunt Stacia turned her mild eyes upon her exasperated niece.

"My dear," she replied, "I suppose the men are doing their best, and it is not as though you were running about to places where you would need pretty dresses. My shirtwaists will do very well at home, with just you and me."

But this fact did not seem to console the girl from the village. In Aunt Stacia's neat guest chamber, Rhoda flattened her pretty nose against the window pane as she stared down the brilliantly lighted street.

It was for occasions such as these that Rhoda had labored over the light blue silk, now lying crumpled beneath five dozen eggs in a trunk which had mysteriously run away. Even if the blue dress were here, Rhoda reflected, there would be no chance to wear it. Aunt Stacia did not indulge in frivolities; and Aunt Stacia's acquaintance with young men seemed limited to those who delivered her bundles.

"No use," sighed Rhoda. "No peep into merry city life for me. As well be resigned to my fate."

Rhoda decided to "go after" her trunk the next morning.

It was after a hasty luncheon in the station that Rhoda approached the glass door of an office which looked as though its occupant might be endowed with capability.

The occupant immediately arose from his desk, awaiting in evident surprise her errand.

"You see," she naïvely explained, "I do not mind about my dresses now, not even the blue silk. I shall not be able to get to the theater or any of those lovely places the magazines tell about. But Aunt Stacia does want those eggs, you understand, before—"

"I understand perfectly," said the charming man, and his eyes twinkled.

After a third peremptory inquiry of some "Jerry" at the other end of the wire he turned, again to Rhoda.

"Why?" he asked whimsically, "are you not going to be able to visit the lovely theaters and restaurants as you had planned?"

"Aunt Stacia doesn't care to go," Rhoda answered.

"But I should think," gently persisted the man—Rhoda liked his smile—"that there would be any number of Aunt Stacia's masculine friends ready and eager to act the part of escort."

Rhoda sighed. "Aunt does not seem to have any masculine friends," she dolefully replied.

Suddenly the office man frowned.

"Why?" he asked severely, "did your aunt, knowing you to be unacquainted with this section of the city, allow you to go searching around freight yards alone?"

"She did not allow me," corrected Rhoda. "I just came."

"Look here," the man announced presently, "I think we've located that trunk at last. But to facilitate matters I'm going to ride around and attend to it myself. Would you—"

He hesitated—"like to go with me and identify your property?"

"Of course I'll go," Rhoda agreed.

"He was very kind," she told herself, as they flew along in his car, and often Rhoda's clear eyes sought the man's, gratefully. When she returned by the circuitous route of the trunk cars to Aunt Stacia's home when, after the evening meal, she went to answer the telephone, it was with a strange exhilarating sense of coming joy.

"Miss Rhoda Brown of Cloverton?" called a deep voice. "This is Mr. Hammond of the B. N. & Y. Has your trunk safely arrived?"

"Yes, thanks to you," she told him.

"I wonder—" continued the man, pausing in strange diffidence, "if you will ask Aunt Stacia if I may come out this evening, and—have a little omelet," he ended laughingly.

"Certainly not," Rhoda replied.

"Why—I don't even know you."

"Very well," the man said sorrowfully. "Since this afternoon I have dared to look forward to giving you that desired peep into the theaters. It would have been to me a privilege and pleasure."

When the receiver had clicked back into the hook the man sat silently retrospective.

"And all my single life," he muttered, "I have wanted to meet just that kind of a girl." Wearily he turned again to the telephone.

"When I told Aunt Stacia your name," came Rhoda's jubilant voice, "she said at once that you might come, Mr. Hammond. I am wearing my blue silk dress," added the girl, and the man joyously reached for his hat and coat.

News Notes from Movieland

By DAISY DEAN

Tom Moore and his daughter Mary Alice.

Reports come from the coast that it is simply scandalous the way Tom Moore has been showering attentions upon a pretty young lady who recently arrived in Los Angeles from New York. He has spent all kinds of money on her to date and he claims he is not through yet. The young lady in question is becoming very popular in the coast film colony and Mr. Tom must beware or some handsome and younger gallant will win her favor.

The accompanying photograph is incriminating evidence that Tom has succeeded to the wiles of the captivating little New Yorker. She seems to be all wrapped up in Tom, too, but then why not? Isn't he her own daddy and isn't she his own little Mary Alice?

There, the secret is out. Little Mary Alice Moore has left her New York, while she visits her father Tom in sunny California. Little Mary Alice is having the time of her young life, too, according to the stories she writes her mother.

FOR VAUDEVILLE

If Joseph Hart has his way, Francis Bushman, hero of many a screen episode, will consent to vaudeville. At any rate, Hart says that he holds a tentative contract with the film star, and is at the moment seeking a medium worthy of his name.

Also it is known that negotiations have been under way between Bushman and A. H. Woods for an appearance on the regular stage.

DUAL ROLE

Jackie Saunders, former Mutual star, who is returning to the screen Japan.

ETHEL CLAYTON

ETHEL CLAYTON, whose latest picture, "Maggie Peppery," is about the best she has had in some time, has just finished her first year's work for the famous Players-Lasky and is starting her second year's work. She started her first year's work last week after completing the last picture of her 1918 series. She claims that she will spend most of her vacation seeing Japan.

THE BIRTH OF A RACE

Direct from the Blackstone Theatre and the Playhouse, Chicago, the big photoplay, "The Birth of a Race," comes to the Myers Theatre on a turn engagement for one night and makes Sunday, April 6th.

This great drama of the films was in preparation for more than two years and employed the services of the best scenario writers, most consistent actors, clever directors and most efficient photographers that could be secured and in addition it has been supplied with a descriptive score, composed by Joseph Breil, who wrote the famous accompaniment for "The Birth of a Nation" and "Intolerance." An augmented orchestra also comes as a special musical feature.

The theme of this wonderful feature is the story of peace, of democracy, of brotherhood. It traces the history of world advancement from the Garden of Eden to the dawn of peace, in the present year of our Lord, most of the most graphic histories of the world ever presented for the enlightenment and entertainment of the people. Perhaps no great photoplay has ever been prepared with more earnest care, more historical research, more truth and eager effort for dramatic effect.

"Let's try, anyway," said Billy Bunny, and then he steered the Luckymobile carefully onto the dam and started across. But, oh, dear me, there was a large opening, with a little narrow gate, to let the water flow out. And of course it wasn't wide enough for the Luckymobile. They couldn't go back or go forward. So there they were right in the middle.

And just then who should come by but the big, kind American Eagle, and when he saw what a fix the two little rabbits were in, what do you suppose he did? He picked up the Luckymobile and the two little rabbits and carried them safely over to the low bank.

"Now, my little friends," he said, "you are all right." So they commenced to sing:

"The Eagle of the U. S. A. Is mighty fine big bird; He is a pet of Uncle Sam. As you have often heard, And Aunt Columbia loves him, too."

As well as the Red and White and Blue. Then hip, hurrah; and hip, hurrah! For the Eagle of the U. S. A."

"Thank you very much," said the Eagle. "That was a very fine song." And then he flew back to Washington to tell the President all about what had happened.

And after that the two little rabbits started off once more for their home in Lettuceville, and before very long they came in sight of Uncle Lucky's house. And there on the front lawn was old Red Rooster playing croquet with the little sparrow who had her nest every year under the eaves of the front porch. But when that old Red Rooster caught sight of the Luckymobile he ran into the barn and made believe he was sweeping cobwebs off the wall with an old feather duster. And in the next story I'll tell you some more about Billy Bunny and his friends.

Heart and Home Problems

LETTERS MAY BE ADDRESSED TO MRS. THOMPSON, IN CARE OF THE GAZETTE

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a young married woman of a sad and unhappy home. I have two small children. My husband tells me he doesn't love me and that he loves a girl he was engaged to before we were married. If I leave him could he be made to keep the children? His mother is always telling him things that aren't true and he believes them and gives me money when I need it more than she does. Does he do right?

Please give me advice as I am very unhappy and can't stand it any longer. DISCOURAGED WIFE.

Your husband can be made to support the children, and there is a chance that you yourself can collect alimony. It would be well to talk to a lawyer and see what he can do to straighten out your circumstances. Unless the man is willing to do the right thing, alimony is rather hard to collect.

gentleman never taunts his wife the statement that he no longer loves her. Such a thing is unbecoming to a man who cheats a girl by leaving her his wife without love, should repay in every other way possible—with respect, consideration and money. Your husband should not give his mother money when she does not need it and you do.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am going to visit in a large city this summer. Will you please tell me of what my wardrobe should consist.

Please tell me how to decline an invitation when asked to dance, as I do not know how to dance. Should the finger nails extend over the end of the fingers? MABEL.

Your wardrobe should be suited to your own circumstances and the circumstances of the people you are to visit. For a simple wardrobe I would suggest a suit, three or four waists, a voile frock, an afternoon or evening dress and a coat to wear with dresses.

Besides this you should have the necessary underwear, shoes and hosiery. One hat ought to be enough. Thank the man and say that you do not dance.

The upper part of the nail, which does not touch the flesh of the finger, appears to be whiter than the rest of the nail. The white part should be from one-eighth to a quarter of an inch long. It should extend at least to the end of the finger, but not far beyond.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I have a friend who is now in finance. He has been writing to me for some time and is very serious in his letters. He is to be home soon and as I care for nothing more than his friendship, what shall I do?

The fellow I have been going with and care about has returned from service and since doing so he does not seem to care for work, although I am turning against him. Do you think he will change?

When the soldier returns you will have to tell him that you care for him only as a friend. You should not let things go so far. When you saw that he was getting serious you should have let him know in a kind way that you could only be a friend.

I believe that the soldier who does not care for work will change. Encourage him to get at something and let him believe that you have faith in his ability to do big things.

Mr. and Miss Lover: Money should not be the question in your case. Money and get along some way. For the man to shirk his obligation would be cowardly. Instead of sharing the responsibility he would place it entirely upon the girl. I cannot see how the man can claim that he loves the girl and think of anything but marriage.

HEALTH TALKS

BY WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

LETTERS MAY BE ADDRESSED TO DR. BRADY, IN CARE OF THE GAZETTE

THE EAR IS A BRANCH OF THE LUNGS

An ear that runs more than a few weeks is always a menace to health and life until the cause of the discharge is determined and properly treated.

An intense pain, more painful than the ordinary earache, in the ear accompanied by a constant discharge of pus, and sometimes with swelling of the face in front or of the skin behind the ear, usually is produced by a boil in the outer ear canal, painful enough to the victim, but comparatively harmless.

An earache is always caused by inflammation in the middle ear, the business part of the ear inside the eardrum, where the eardrum and the ossicles, the hammer, anvil and stirrup, the middle ear cavity is about the size of a pea. It communicates through a ventilating slit called the Eustachian tube, with the pharynx, which is a doctor's way of naming the upper part of the throat and the rear room of the nasal chamber on either side.

Let the Eustachian tube swell a bit, as in the presence of an alleged "cold in the head" or from adenoids occluding the pharynx end of the tube, and if not defused there is trouble. When germs from the nose or throat travel up the Eustachian tube to the ear and lodge in the middle ear, then there is a middle ear infection, called otitis media, as it is popularly called. A simple inflammation accompanies acute earache.

The earache must therefore be treated as an inflammation and an infection. At its other end, respiratory infections, such as bronchitis and so-called "cold in the head," there is no home or doctor's remedy better for earache (otitis media) than a hot mustard footbath administered to the patient in bed—a knack that demands some knowledge of the art of nursing.

If the ear runs copiously, then you may reasonably suspect the patient, child or adult, has nasitis, that is, means the nose. Little air spaces in the mastoid prominence of bone immediately back of the ear have become infected from the ear. Nine out of ten cases of nasitis proceed unobscured and untroubled by operation or unwise treatment, the tenth case proves recalcitrant, the fever or other signs of illness persist and operation becomes imperative to save the patient from brain abscess, meningitis or other grave result.

Never put any oil in an ear. Never keep cotton in an ear—it merely helps to help develop infection, and if there is a discharge the discharge should not be obstructed in any way.

Never drop laudanum in an ear—it is a crude and dangerous way to administer a narcotic.

Glycerin, warm, instead of oil, in any case.

A thin wick of gauze instead of cotton in any case.

Prolonged irrigation with water as warm as endurable, instead of laudanum and other drops.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Gargle for Sore Throat. A friend who sings told me you recommended a gargle which has been used for a long time. She said the gargle contained karo. It is a name I have never heard of. It is a name for a formula. And if so, will you please reprint it? (C. D. V.)

Potassium chlorate ..... 2 drams
Boiling water ..... 4 ounces
Powdered alum ..... 1/2 ounce
Glycerine ..... 1/2 ounce

Scrub of each ..... 1/2 ounce
Flint extract (U. S. F.) ..... 3 drams
(The mixture should be clear, rosy-red, pleasant in odor and taste.) Use one teaspoonful with each meal, or gargle once or twice within the half hour before singing or speaking.

Just One More New Frock Is Needed For the End-of-Season Dance

BY ELOISE.

There will be a few more dances before the weather becomes too warm for that form of recreation. And new gowns must be had for these end-of-the-season affairs because an evening gown is a fragile thing and can not last a full season of strenuous one-stepping. At the left is a charming gown of rose and French blue. The beaded bodice and transparent hem are suggestive of the harem. In the center is a charming and youthful frock of tulle and gold lace. Pale green tulle is used trimmed with shirred bands of the same material.

The gown on the right is taupe, net beaded in electric blue beads with a circle of crushed velvet brocade in rich colors. The wrap is a summer evening cape of taupe chiffon with dyed muskrat fur edging it. And there you have frocks for the debutante, the young matron and the chaperon.

SIDE TALKS

—By—
RUTH CAMERON

TO CALL DOWN OR NOT TO CALL DOWN.

Some weeks ago I wrote in condemnation of the person who is always on the slightest provocation calling down the people who serve the public in such capacities as clerk in a department store, waiter in a restaurant or hotel, etc., and making trouble for them and possibly making them lose their positions.

A letter friend recently writes me. She wants to know if we are to hear everything and anything from "these people" just because they have to work hard (on which point, of course, she takes issue.) She calls me a mushy sentimentalist and says she thinks it is our duty to keep them up to the mark by demanding good service.

I wonder if she is always so keen for duty.

I cannot help wondering if she is as ardent about all her duties as she evidently is about that one.

And yet, to a certain extent, I agree with her, even in her accusation that I am probably one of those people who encourage poor service by being too easy. I know I am, and I think there is a point at which it becomes a distinct fault. I know that I have often accepted poor service because I hated to put the force into insisting on good. I know that I have even endured what bordered on insolence because resenting it would involve me in a certain amount of unpleasantness. And I agree with my critic that that is downright wrong.

It is Very Hard to Do Good Work Unless It Is Demanded.

We all know how hard it is to give good service in any line unless it is demanded. The person who can keep himself up to a high standard of excellence by sheer moral force is rare. The average person finds the demand for good work a helpful stiffener for his own good nature. Neither is it right to endure downright rudeness without a rebuke. The person who will be causelessly rude to you is evidently of such stuff that he can't be decent of his own accord. The only thing that will keep him decent is fear of rebuke, and if you shirk your share of censure, you make it harder for others who have to deal with him.

How a Gentleman or Gentlewoman Rebukes.

But there are certain things in the manner of your rebuke by which you can distinguish yourself from the self-indulgent faultfinder whom I criticized in the previous article. You can give it to the person rather than to his superior—thus warning him without risking for him the loss of his position (unless in some very heinous offense which absolutely demands further action for the protection of the public.) You can give it with dignity instead of with acrimony and as a constructive criticism instead of petty fault finding.

If there is no ground for such rebuke to fall on, you will have spoken in vain. But you may remember what a worth while thing happened when the seed of the parable fell on good ground.

The Broom Problem Is Easy

The Wirewound Broom HARD WORK LITTLE POLLY HARD WORK

A broom that outwears several old style wire wound brooms is the one you want. Little Polly represents the new idea of broom making. For fifty years fibres have worn down to a point at the tip, because in wire wound brooms the fibres cannot be measured before being built into the broom. To trim them off after the broom is made, means sacrificing the softest, finest part.

LITTLE POLLY Kemball Process BROOMS

Note Little Polly's beautiful, easy sweeping tip in which the best of the fibres is preserved. But only by the special Kemball Process, and the tip wears straight to the handle. Ask your dealer or write to Harrah & Stewart Mfg. Co. Des Moines, Iowa.

A WOMAN'S BUSINESS

BY ZOE BECKLEY

IN NICOLI'S ROOM.

Nicoll himself opened the door suddenly. Without a word Walt stepped inside and pointed upstairs in the direction of Nicoll's bedroom. His hand had almost the motion of a loaded revolver.

"You go ahead of me!" he said to Nicoll.

Nicoll turned and preceded him up the stairs. The thickly carpeted steps gave no sound as the two men mounted. Walt had been Nicoll's guest with Janet at the house before and knew the way. Before the door to Nicoll's own room he stopped.

From within, muffled by walls, came the sounds of a woman sobbing. Walt knew the voice for Janet's.

"Come in!" he said to Nicoll, who had opened the door. Nicoll seemed about to speak, but changed his mind, and, without knocking, opened the door of his bedroom and entered. Walt stepped in quickly, closed the door and put his back to it. He did not dare look in the direction from which Janet's sobs came.

With a leap he was at Nicoll's throat. "Mr. Steadman!"

Nicoll's powerful hold on Walt's wrists could not tear off his struggling hold. But the sound of his name from some one he had not seen and a touch on his arm made Walt turn. A tall, dignified woman in the beautiful prime of life, but of snow white hair, was at his elbow.

"I am your mother," she said quietly. "You are, I suppose—Mr. Steadman."

Walt released his grip on Nicoll. The woman was the image of Nicoll with only the difference in sex. Absolute dignity of her manner abashed Walt and cleared the red in his brain.

"Where are you, Mr. Steadman?" she went on, as though he had calmly entered the room. "If you are, there's a messenger looking for you at your rooms. He left here only a minute ago and says your car is here. How fortunate that you came as you did! Janet wants you!"

Walt stared. Then a cry from Janet, inarticulate, brought him to her side. Without a word they clasped in an embrace, while in the intensity of their relief in the passionate clinging to each other lest something tear them apart again.

Janet, girl, come home!" Walt said, raising her to his feet.

"Do you want to go, Janet?" he asked, with the unaccustomed tremor in his voice again. His mother gave him a quick, concerned look. It seemed as though she were one flesh with her son and felt his wound.

"Oh, boy, dear, dear friend that you are," Janet cried softly, catching his hand and putting it to her wet cheek. "I am going home with you now. But, my dear, I shall never, never forget you."

Nicoll's hand dropped. Janet turned to his mother.

"And you, Mrs. Nicoll, I think you so much!" Janet said.

Walt faced the stately woman.

"Mrs. Nicoll, what can I say to you? I—I ask your forgiveness!" he stammered. "I am too overwrought to say more."

Mrs. Nicoll inclined her head slowly. Walt turned to Nicoll. His hands went out in a gesture of helplessness, of apology, too contrite for expression. Nicoll nodded shortly and stepped aside for Walt and Janet to pass.

"I will see you down!" Mrs. Nicoll said, forgetting her son, and accompanied the Steadmans to the front door. But as soon as they were gone she flew upstairs and sitting down by the side of him on the bed, she put her arms gently about him.

"Son, dear, she said softly. "Oh, my boy, my boy!" And the two were united clinging to each other in the room's half light.

Match Savers—Take oatmeal or other boxes, cut in one-half inch strips and use as matches. They prove a great saving in lighting lamps or gas stoves.

Substitute for Tape Needle—Don't forget that a good many times when in need of a tape needle, the best way is to use a common safety pin. Pin on tape, then close and draw through without any trouble. Once used you will always use, as a tape needle sometimes tears the article or the tape comes out. This way that trouble is done away with.

CHANGE IN POLICY OF APPROPRIATIONS FOR STATE FOOD HELD UP

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Madison, April 4.—A change in the policy of making appropriations to the state dairy and food departments has been held up by assemblyman Axel Johnson, Polk county, to give him an opportunity to investigate the matter. The finance committee bill provides for an annual appropriation of $500,000 to the dairy department and $100,000 to the food department. Johnson charges that the old law has been so amended as to increase the fees in that department and to turn all of the fees into the fund of the dairy and food department instead of into the state treasury as heretofore.

Instead of this being an annual appropriation of $500,000, it may even amount to an annual appropriation of $800,000, declared Mr. Johnson. "I think all departments should have annual appropriations and that all fees should be turned into the general fund so that people will know exactly and by a simple manner, the exact cost of the department."

Chairman Carl Kutenacker, of the finance committee, said that the bill had not had a hearing on the dairy features of the bill. The bill provides for 150 per cent increase on licenses for butter makers and cheese factories. The present law makes the fee $3 annually and the finance bill would make the fee $5.

The bill has a new section providing for a license for any person operating a milk or cream testing apparatus, either for himself or for another. The fee in the bill is $2. It also provides for the licensing of canneries for a fee of $25 each. This is also a new section.

Fees for cold storage houses are fixed at a flat fee of $25. Under the present law the fee for fourth class cities was $40; second class, $30; third class, $20 and fourth class $10. Another section provides for bakery licenses to take the place of the law held unconstitutional by the Wisconsin supreme court. The fee is five dollars for the first year and thereafter according to the value of the premises. Some members believe that the license fee should not be attached to the regular appropriation bill, but should come in as a separate measure, so that parties affected may have a hearing. The present bill the matter was taken up in the finance committee, but no notice of hearing was posted and none of the provisions until the bill was on the calendar for passage, according to Mr. Johnson. It is claimed by the farmers and others affected that if one class is compelled to pay for state supervision, then all classes supervised should be taxed in the same way. It is said that all employers of labor are furnished inspection free; also the industrial commission free; also they have the benefit of the work of the health, insurance and tax commission free. Assemblyman Johnson, Madison, may demand that the same fee be paid by manufacturers. If all of these other fees are to be applied to farmers, there will be a lively contest over this bill when it comes up next week.

BRIDE FEW MONTHS; SHE'S HAD ENOUGH

Elia Miller, Beloit, was some years past fourteen but not yet twenty-one, when she took John Koras' name, was better off for worse. But their marriage, at Stoughton, was only a few months ago, to be exact, on August 7, 1918 at Rockford. Now Elia seeks a legal separation from John, whose present whereabouts is a mystery.

Richard, Line City attorney is guardian ad litem for Mrs. Koras and through him action against Koras has been commenced in Rock County circuit court. The plaintiff claims Koras as cruel and inhuman in that he made excessive demands upon her.

H. W. AYER CO. HAS 50TH ANNIVERSARY

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.) Philadelphia, April 4.—A half century of advertising history was brought to an auspicious close here today by one of the largest assemblies of advertisers, advertising men, publishers and captains of industry ever gathered together.

Nearly a thousand of the leaders of the advertising business celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of the founding of H. W. Ayer & Son, the oldest and largest advertising agency in the country, by a banquet at the Bellevue-Stratford hotel.

The event was notable, not only because of the eminence of the guests present, but because it marked a milestone in the progress of one of the most respected and powerful of constructive forces in American business. It brings to the minds of those who have been associated with the advertising business since its early beginning the part played by H. W. Ayer & Son in building it up.

One of the features of the jubilee was the presentation of a portrait painting of F. Wayland Ayer to the organization. The presentation was made by Albert G. Bradford, a member of the firm. Mr. Ayer was then presented with a testimonial of appreciation in the form of an ornately bound and illustrated autograph book, signed by all the guests present and employees of the firm.

FORTY YEARS AGO

The Janesville Daily Gazette, April 4, 1879.—The motion for a new trial in the Mack murder case will be taken up before the supreme court some day next week, the extension of time being necessitated by the fact that all evidence is to be written out by the bailiff. The cost of this part of the proceedings will amount to over $300, which with other costs will swell the bill to a mammoth size.

Milton Junction.—The Temperance Herald is the title of a new sheet published by Badger and Curtis of Milton Junction, and edited by J. B. Cutler. It is especially devoted to the interests of cold water and especially advocates the interests of the Sons of Temperance.

WHO'S WHO in the Day's News

DR. ANNA HOWARD SHAW. The long fight conducted by Dr. Anna H. Shaw to induce congress to submit the proposed suffrage amendment to the states has at last ended in victory.

Dr. Anna Howard Shaw, a prominent leader of the women's suffrage movement, was born in New Castle-on-Tyne, England, Feb. 14, 1847. Her parents brought her to America when she was four years of age and she was educated in the common schools of Michigan. She studied at Albion (Mich.) college, 1872-5, and graduated from the theological school of Boston university, 1878. She gained her M. D. from Boston university in 1885. She was granted a local teacher's license by the district conference of the Methodist church and paid expenses by preaching and lecturing while at college and university. She was refused ordination by the northeast conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, on account of her sex. The case was appealed to general conference at Cincinnati, 1889, and the refusal confirmed. She was then ordained by the Methodist Protestant church, being the first woman to receive ordination by that denomination.

More Huge Credits. Washington.—Additional credits of $55,000,000 to France and $25,000,000 to Italy were announced by the treasury.

THIN, NERVOUS FOLKS SHOULD TAKE BITRO-PHOSPHATE

Women Need It to Bring Pink Glow Health to Pale Cheeks and Faded Full-Tale Lines of Age. Men Need It to Make Strong Vigorous Bodies and Steady Nerves.

Weak, thin people—men or women—are nearly always nervous wrecks; this conclusively proving that thinness, weakness, debility and neurasthenia are almost invariably due to nerve starvation. Feed your nerves and all these symptoms due to nerve starvation will disappear.

Thin people are an organic phosphate known among druggists as Bitro-Phosphate, a fine grain tablet of which should be taken with each meal. Being a genuine nerve builder and not a stimulant or habit forming drug, Bitro-Phosphate can be safely taken by the weakest and most delicate sufferer, and the results following its use are often simply astonishing. Weak, tired people regain strength and vigor; thinness and angularity give way to plumpness and curves; sleep returns to the sleepless; confidence and cheerfulness replace debility and gloom; dull eyes become bright, and pale sunken cheeks regain the pink glow of health. Bitro-Phosphate, use of which is inexpensive, also works port marked gains of weight in a few weeks. It is sold by the Smith Drug Company in Janesville, and all good druggists.

CAUTION:—Although Bitro-Phosphate is unsurpassed for relieving nervousness, sleeplessness and general weakness, it should not, owing to its remarkable flesh-growing properties, be used by anyone who does not desire to put on flesh.

A message to farmers about "Satisfaction guaranteed"

WE say "satisfaction guaranteed" a good deal. We would like to have you know what we mean by that phrase. Satisfaction in clothes means to us exactly what it means to you; you decide it.

All merchandise made by human hands and sold at any store may have defects; none of us are infallible; we can't possibly guarantee merchandise, except that we can guarantee that Hart Schaffner & Marx clothes are all-wool and stylish

But what we can guarantee is that the clothes will satisfy, and if for any reason they don't—we'll make good.

Naturally we have to be pretty careful about the goods we sell, or we couldn't keep on guaranteeing satisfaction on our goods. If anything doesn't satisfy you, we give your money back as much for your sake as for ours; we don't care to keep any money we don't give value for.

"Satisfaction guaranteed" is simply value-giving, and we believe you'll like the spirit at this store.

LOCAL CHAPTER OF LOYALTY LEGION IS FORMALLY DISSOLVED

Believing that the work for which it was established is completed the General Council of the Wisconsin Loyalty Legion, at a meeting held in Milwaukee, March 24th, formally dissolved the state organization, which action terminates the legal existence of the local chapter in Janesville. The funds remaining in the treasury will be divided equally between the Red Cross and the Wisconsin Branch of the League to Enforce Peace. In assigning a portion of the funds to the latter organization, it was especially provided that this should not be taken as in any wise a commitment of the Legion for or against the proposed covenant of the League of Nations, but rather to promote discussion thereof.

This action also automatically dissolves the Wisconsin Patriotic Press Association.

The Loyalty Legion was formed at a mass meeting called by the Wisconsin Defense League in Milwaukee August 15, 1917. It arose out of the demand from all sections of the state and all classes of the people for an organization to combat disloyalty and perform patriotic work not provided for by any other organization.

Hon. John M. Whitehead of this city was elected first vice-president and member of the executive committee. C. E. Gray, Whitewater, was chosen a member of the general council of the Legion. Both performed invaluable services.

The Legion grew with great rapidity until it had, at the close of the war, nearly 400 chapters with a membership of over 100,000.

The Legion was early appointed as the official distributor for Wisconsin of the documents issued by the Committee on Public Information. More than 4,000,000 pieces of such literature were distributed in the state.

A large amount was placed through the public schools and libraries. The teachers of the state responded enthusiastically to all such work and made wide use of the material furnished in their classes.

Hundreds of thousands of copies of other pamphlets and books, issued by various public and patriotic bodies were also distributed.

A speakers' bureau enlisted the services of more than a thousand public speakers, who delivered a total of 5,222 speeches within the state.

A Speakers' Bureau also performed the organization and office work for the "4-Minute-Men," completing the organization in every important center in the state, reaching not only the theaters, but churches and many other public gatherings regularly.

The Patriotic Press Association, formed as an auxiliary of the Legion included nearly 300 of the leading newspapers of the state. Each of these papers carried the following legend at the head of its editorial column:

"This newspaper is a member of the Wisconsin Patriotic Press Association and pledges its uncompromising support to our Government in this war."

The members of the Press Association played an important part in all patriotic education. Notices and articles necessary to concerted action in aid of the government were thus assured instant and wide publicity.

The General Council, at its final meeting, decided to turn all records of the Legion and the Patriotic Press Association over to the Wisconsin Historical Society, where they will be available to any future historian, who desires to use them.

War Risk Bureau Issues Checks for Allotments

Washington, April 4.—The war risk bureau now is issuing checks for allotments allowances, insurance and compensation when they fall due.

Announcement was made today that 1,022,568 checks were mailed in March representing a total of $39,148,323.05. Since the bureau's establishment nearly $419,000,000 has been paid out.

Mechanical devices by which twenty checks are signed with an actual pen signature at one time have been installed to assist in handling the enormous volume of business transacted by the bureau.

VACATION IS HERE; CHILDREN TICKLED

Vacation is here. School children are tickled. This afternoon ended their arduous labors for a whole week. Public schools, including the grade and high schools, closed their doors today for the regular week of spring vacation. Out-of-town teachers are rushing to the first trains to go home. The youngsters are thinking joy is with them.

The parochial schools and the Rock county training school will continue their work, their vacations, if any, coming a few weeks later. Catholic schools will observe the last three days of Holy week, just preceding Easter, April 26, as holidays.

The Rock county Training school will not discontinue work at any time this spring, according to Frank J. Lowth, principal, but during the week beginning April 21, the work here will be adjourned to visit the schools of the county. The cadet teachers will be assigned to observing work for the week.

SCHOOL W. S. S. DRIVE PLANS PROGRESSING

A meeting of the four city superintendents in the county, those in charge of parochial schools, Frank J. Lowth, principal of the Rock county Training school, and a few others, has been called for 11 a. m. Saturday at the high school to consider plans for the Liberty loan campaign in the schools.

A tentative program drawn up by Arthur M. Fisher, acting county chairman in the absence of H. A. Moenich, and O. D. Antisdel, in charge of the speakers program for the county schools, will be submitted for suggestions and approval.

The W. S. S. drive for the adults will not be launched until after the Liberty loan campaign.

Russian Demonstrators Menace Labor Newspaper

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Brisbane, Australia, April 4.—A labor newspaper here which praised the raising of a red flag by Russian demonstrators, has been menaced by angry crowds, which smashed the windows of its building. Russian shops also were damaged.

Returned soldiers and others have adopted strongly worded resolutions demanding the deportation of Bolshevik Russians and sympathizers, including two labor members of the parliament. They also urge that the state government change its attitude toward men the resolutions characterize as traitors, and that the commonwealth government abandon its "tolerant attitude." Otherwise, they declare, the returned soldiers will take drastic action.

Naval Reserve Forces Must Be Released Soon

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Washington, April 4.—Because of the failure of congress to enact the naval appropriation bill with its provision for increased naval personnel, practically all members of the naval reserve force on active duty, must be released immediately on the declaration of peace.

In making this announcement, today the navy department said that because of this fact and of the great need of officers due both to the continuing activities of the navy and the shortage of regular officers, it was imperative to accept the resignation of officers of the temporary navy. Many of these officers have asked to be relieved from duty so as to return to civil life.

FOREIGN PEN MEN IMPRESSED WITH U. S.

Impressed by the vastness of this country as compared to their own native lands, two wealthy foreign pen distributors, who have been spending several days in the city the guests of George S. Parker, left last night on a trip to California.

When they arrived in the States several days ago they had no intentions of going farther than Chicago, but when they took the long trip from New York to Chicago and then found that they were only halfway across the country, they resolved to see it all.

Chris Olson, Copenhagen, Denmark distributor of Parker pens in three countries, Denmark, Norway and Sweden, and Eric Rindal, Stockholm, Sweden, sub-agent in that country, are the two so struck by the size of this country.

Their visit here this week is their first one. They speak English with difficulty but are able to make themselves understood.

They told of the scarcity of food in the northern part of their country during the war and of how the people were all emaciated looking and in ill health because of it. One of them said he had gained nearly 20 pounds since he had been in this country.

Five thousand Germans are dying daily due to the most part to this same cause, they said.

Asked about the way in which president Wilson is regarded in their countries, they said: "Oh, he is a great man. He is a wonderful man. Whatever he says, we do."

They told many other interesting facts about their own countries and Germany.

P. S.—If your paper isn't delivered by 6:15, call us up. Special service will be provided up to 6:45 p. m.

Gazette Subscribers who get their paper in Janesville by carrier will confer a favor on the Gazette by giving notice if they fail to get SERVICE. By SERVICE we mean that you should get a clean, neat untorn copy of the Gazette not later than 6:15 P. M., unless you live in some very remote section of the city. Except on rare occasions the papers are in the hands of the carrier in plenty of time so that they can complete their routes before 6:15.

Some subscribers hesitate to call up the Circulation Department and file a complaint because they fear they may be doing an injury to the carrier. Such is not the case. The carriers and the circulation department are cooperating to give SERVICE and have worked out a system which should rarely fail to get the desired results. If we don't know where, when, and why the system breaks down we cannot repair it.

The Circulation Department is working with the carrier boys and has succeeded in cutting down very materially the amount of time necessary for the carriers to spend in obtaining and delivering the papers on their routes. While the boys are made responsible for giving SERVICE they are not penalized in any way for mishaps that are not due to their own carelessness. No SUBSCRIBER NEED HESITATE TO DEMAND HIS PAPER FOR FEAR THAT HE WILL CAUSE LOSS TO THE BOY. All unavoidable losses are sustained by the Gazette.

COOPERATION ON THE PART OF THE SUBSCRIBER WILL HELP BOTH THE CARRIERS AND THE GAZETTE TO MAKE GOOD.

MISS CARNEGIE TO BE SUMMER BRIDE

Miss Margaret Carnegie, daughter of Andrew Carnegie, is expected to be an early summer bride. Her engagement to Ensign Roswell Miller was announced last November. The wedding will be at Carnegie's summer home at Lenox, Mass. The picture above of Miss Carnegie was taken when she acted as sponsor for the steamer Strathmore, launched recently at the Downey shipbuilding yards at Arlington for the U. S. Navy.

SITUATION UNCHANGED ON ALL FRONTS, IS REPORT BY ALLIES

 Arrahongel, April 4.—At allied headquarters this afternoon it was reported that the situation was unchanged on all fronts. The enemy has made no new attacks since their being severely repulsed yesterday. In the artillery on both sides continues active in the Chozskan sector.

After the bolshevik had held a position for several hours outside the road between Kozmin and Ozerka, they were driven out and it is reported by prisoners that their losses were extremely heavy. One shell from a Russian battery exploded in the midst of a party of bolsheviks killing 15 men. The allied machine gun fire also caused many casualties.

It was during the period when the enemy held this road and were raiding the allied lines to the rear over a little used trail through the woods that a party of bolsheviks killed 15 men. The allied machine gun fire also caused many casualties.

FRENCH GIRLS WORK FOR UNCLE SAM

Two French girls in their American uniforms.

These French girls are employed by the United States for work at the A. S. D. I. No. 8. They look quite like Americans and are proud to wear the uniforms with U. S. marked on the caps. "Like a regular Yank," as they say.

Around the State

Galesville Remains Dry.
 Galesville remains dry for another year at least, after which the whole country will be dry according to the present schedule. The wells lost by 41 votes.

La Crosse—Voters of the town of Bangor raised the sum of $4,500 for a bridge over Black River and authorized the town board to bond the town for the same.

Brewery Workers Ask Raise.
 La Crosse.—Brewery workers in La Crosse on Wednesday signed an agreement calling for a weekly increase of $2.50 for the coming year. They had requested $4 more per week.

Citizens are Indignant.
 Appleton.—Citizens of Outagamie county who are 100 per cent loyal are much indignant that papers should have been served Wednesday afternoon on Stephen J. Bailett, Dr. A. E. Rector and Dr. P. J. O'Connor, or any of them to appear before Attorney John Boltensack, court commissioner, on April 5 under the discovery statute for examination in connection with the alleged "night riding" in connection with the Fourth Liberty loan. The "night riding" consisted of visits by prominent citizens on farmers who did not subscribe for liberty bonds. It is said that "strong suspicion" was used in some cases, but it is not known where they failed to get a subscription. Many others aside from the three to testify were participants in the "raids" and made no effort to conceal the fact.

Neenah Tent Good Roads.
 Neenah.—Neenah contributed to the defeat of the good roads bonding issue in Winnebago county by giving the "noes" a majority of seventy-four votes. Menasha's majority in the bonding question was slightly over a hundred. In the third ward of this city Calvin Young and A. T. Lueckenbach tied for alderman and will draw lots to see which one takes a seat in the council.

Promoted to Major.
 Appleton.—Waldo Rosebush, manager of the Patten Paper Co., who went as captain of the Chilton company and was assigned to the 127th infantry, has been promoted Major. For some time Rosebush has been acting as brigade adjutant in the 5th division.

Socialist Council Smashed.
 Sheboygan.—Sheboygan's fifty-fifty socialist council was broken by Tuesday's election and now the non-partisans are in control by nine aldermen against seven socialists. Mayor Herman Albrecht was re-elected over his socialist opponent, Albert W. Kuehler, by a close vote, 2347 to 2082, a plurality of 265. The biggest socialist victory was the election of John L. Meyer, whose term as alderman expires, to municipal judge.

Ex-Senator Wolf Dead.
 Sheboygan.—Ex-Senator George W. Wolf, one of the most prominent men of Wisconsin, is dead at his home at Elkhardt Lake. He was 71. He was state senator for eight years from 1901 to 1909, and in politics was a republican. From 1895 to 1899 he was a member of the Wisconsin assembly. Mr. Wolf was one of the first settlers of Sheboygan county.

Capt. Schmidt Lucky.
 Sheboygan.—Capt. Paul W. Schmidt, former commander of Company C, 127th Infantry, formerly of the Wisconsin National Guards, who was the only officer of the 127th to go through all the battles of that regiment without being wounded, gassed or ill, has been again honored here by his appointment to superintendent of the city's parks.

Some War Relics.
 Sheboygan.—When Gustave Beck, late of the 49th Infantry of Regulars, returned home after eleven months of active service in France, he brought with him two unusually interesting war souvenirs. One was a German iron war cross which he took off a prisoner, and the other a genuine Hun belt, also gleaned from the personal effects of a captive.

NEW POLAND'S FRONTIER TO BE LESS THAN A HUNDRED MILES FROM BERLIN

The map shows the boundaries of New Poland, including Posen, the territory recently acquired from Germany.

Under the terms of the new armistice, Germany has been forced to give undisputed possession to the Poles of most of Posen. The territory surrendered is shown in dark shading on the map.

The lighter shading shows approximately the territory claimed by Poland as a means of getting a seaport and defending it. Since cession of this strip would cut ancient Prussia in two the Germans are contesting it and the allies have not yet granted the demand. South of Posen, in Silesia, the Poles and Czechs have conflicting claims, which an allied commission is now comparing.

Paris dispatches have assumed that the Posen boundary now fixed will be made permanent by the peace treaty. If so, new Poland will be only ninety-five miles from Berlin.

DELAVAN

Delavan, April 3.—At the election Tuesday, Delavan voted "wet" by a majority of 23 votes. In the first ward D. E. Cannon was elected alderman, receiving 57 votes, and A. Jackson 26. In the second ward E. M. Butts was elected alderman, receiving 113 votes, and Harry Utley 37. In the third ward Dr. B. L. Snashall had no opposition.

The W. C. O. F. will hold a meeting and installation in their hall this evening.

Ralph Rosenchans is employed at the Bernholz-Richards grocery store. Howard and Harold Murphy, Howard Rice and Walter Fleming were Darien visitors yesterday.

Walter Wells, Chicago, was a business caller in Delavan yesterday. J. J. Phoenix was a business caller in Milwaukee yesterday.

The Royal Neighbors held a regular meeting and initiation last night in their hall. J. Kleiser is baggageman at the depot.

J. A. Klein, Burlington, was in town yesterday calling on friends. Elkhorn, spent Wednesday night in Delavan at the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Sherfy.

W. Lutz, Milwaukee, was in town for several days. Miss Mae Briggs returned last night to Beloit college after spending her vacation at her home here.

Miss Alice Morrissey, Elkhorn, spent Wednesday night in Delavan at the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Sherfy.

Miss Loretta Ives, Delavan, is visiting relatives here. Miss Elsie Hunsbush was a Beloit visitor, today.

Ralph Goss is assisting as clerk in G. L. Reed's store. Harold Dodge is spending a few days in Madison.

Mrs. W. G. Beak visited friends here, Wednesday. Mrs. Albert Capen will make her home with her son, Orrin.
